

Will CNG Vehicles Work Well In Your Fleet?

Participate in the Honda/FuelMaker Demonstration Program To Find Out!

Experience your own real world test of a Honda Civic GX compressed natural gas (CNG) sedan with the ease and convenience of on-site fueling. This unique program provides your fleet with the extended free use at your facility of both a Civic GX and a FuelMaker natural gas fueling appliance.

Several government units and school districts have found the advantage of driving clean with natural gas and the Honda GX. Here's how the program works – A FuelMaker unit and Honda GX are provided without cost to test in your fleet for two to four weeks. The only out-of-pocket cost is the installation of the FuelMaker unit to the existing natural gas line at your location of choice. The Business Administrator or other municipal official responsible for the program schedules the use of the Civic GX between various departments, such as parking enforcement, code enforcement, building inspections, health inspections and public housing for example.

The Honda Civic GX, assembled in the USA with more than 80% American parts and powered by clean North American fuel. Arizona fleets may be able to utilize grants or other incentives through their local Clean Cities Coalition for the purchase of this high-quality, durable and nearly pollution-free car. Fleets can further reduce program costs by taking advantage of generous discounts provided by Honda and FuelMaker for the purchase of the FuelMaker refueling appliance with a Honda GX as a package.
